

ALL-STEEL MEN MOVING TO MACON

F. V. L. SMITH LEASES THE DAVIS HOME.

Charles L. Smith and O. A. Trorlicht Will Move Here Soon.

Fred V. L. Smith, treasurer of the All-Steel Motor Car Co., has leased the handsome residence of John A. Davis, 322 Pearl Street and will move into it with his family about March 1. Mr. Smith's family consists of his wife and a 22-months-old daughter. Mrs. Smith was Miss Griesedieck, daughter of Henry L. Griesedieck, a wealthy brewer of St. Louis.

Mr. Charles L. Smith, vice-president of the company and Mr. O. A. Trorlicht, secretary, were also on the lookout for homes here for their families, but Fred beat them to it. However, as soon as they can find suitable locations both Mr. Charles Smith and Mr. Trorlicht will move here and become Macon citizens.

Our people have become well-acquainted with all these gentlemen, and will extend to them and their esteemed families the cordial welcome for which our town is noted.

This means that all directors of the All-Steel Motor Co., are to be Macon citizens and to work with our people in the establishment and operation of the big motor factory, which it is hoped will be the source of increased industrial activity and prosperity for all the people in these parts.

We are informed there will be an early announcement regarding the new president of the company.
